The tourists pronounced Delaware roads the worst they had encountered between here and Florida.

SUPPER-DANCE AT CLUBHOUSE

Hostess Delights Guests With Original Manner of Entertainment

Miss Elizabeth Wright entertained about sixty guests last Saturday evening, at a supper-dance, held at the New Century Clubhouse. The main hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with laurel, potted plants, and American flags. Supper was served by M. A. McGovern, in the dining hall, which by an abundance of apple blossoms had been converted into a bower of springtime. Pink tapers, in Colonial candlesticks, decorated with great bouquets of pink tulle, lighted the room.

Invitations had been issued to a Smileage Party, and each guest, upon arrival, was presented with a "Home Smileage Book," which contained coupons, admitting the bearer to the events of the evening. The "Books" which were numbered, were distributed first to the ladies, who following the instructions of the rhyme on the fly leaf, searched for the corresponding number on the place cards down stairs; then stood behind the chairs. The men followed, each carrying out the admonition of the rhyme in his book.

"On the following page is your number. You'll find your partner's the same. See that al her 'Smiles' are taken tonight, And that she's gloriously glad that she came."

The dances were listed as "Smiles," on the program, and the supper as "Smileage Mess." The covers were decorated with a red, white, and blue band, and finished with blue silk cords and pencils.

Mrs. S. J. Wright, Mrs. C. A. Short, Mrs. John Pilling, Dean Robinson of Newark, and Mrs. H. S. Goldey of Wilmington, chaperoned the party. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wright, Miss Margaret Smith, of Salisbury, Md., Misses Olga Seifert, Mary Davis, Kathryn Jackson, Margaret Gray, Ruth Messick, Dorothy Newton, Calista Feehly, Emily Frazer, Elizabeth Houston, Mary J. Mason, Kathryn Bowen, Bessie Whittingham, Edythe Whittingham, Mary Mitchell, Alice Evans, Eleanor Duffy, Cornelia Pilling, Edith Spencer, Lillie Ferguson, Elizabeth Houston, Alice Anna Rouse; Messrs. Mitchell, Evans, Wilson, Loose, Harry and John Alexander, Donaho, Goggin, Downing, Sum-wait, Handy, Colpitts, Bowen, Swing, McWhorten, Hearn, R. Poole, J. Poole, Dean, Lynch, Sipple, Germon, Myers, Terrell, Graves, Lord, and Goroy.

Former Newark Girl Weds

The wedding of Ethel May Jervis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Jervis, and the Rev. Raymond W. Cooke, now a lieutenant in the army, took place at the home of the bride, No. 1020 Gilpin avenue, Wilmington, last Thursday evening. The Rev. George A. Cooke, father of the groom, assisted by the Rev. E. H. Collins and the Rev. C. C. Harris, performed the ceremony. Miss Mary Beardslee played the wedding march. The bride was unattended.

The house was decorated with palms and cut flowers and the wedding party stood under an American flag. Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate family, and a few friends was held. Lieutenant Cooke will return shortly to Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., where he recently completed the infantry course in officers' training. He formerly was pastor of the Stanton M. E. Church. He is awaiting an assignment to military duty as an officer.

Mrs. Cooke who is well-known in Newark where she lived for many years, for the present, will continue to live with her parents.

Annual G. A. R. Encampment

The 38th annual encampment of the Department of Delaware, G. A. R., met on Thursday, at Irish-American Hall.

Department Commander James T. Alexander presided. The 16 posts now number 284 comrades, as against ten times that number at the time of the organization of the body, and 60 were in attendance.

Reports from the member posts were received at the morning session, and the department report was submitted by the assistant adjutant-general, G. A. R., J. S. Litzenberg, and approved.

Loss by death during the past year was 39, and the total voting strength at present is 129.

The report states: "The members are getting along in years, many of them very feeble and unable to attend the meetings or carry on the G. A. R. work; hence those of us who are able must close up our ranks, touch shoulder to shoulder and hold on to our department as long as we can. Our fighting days are past, but we can close our eyes and see in imagination our grandsons in the ranks, side by side, with the grandsons of the men we fought as foes from '61 to '65, and almost hear their shouts, as with Old Glory in front they hurl themselves on their, and our, common foe, today."

A lunch was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary at noon.

CLUB LEADERS' CONFERENCE AT WOLF HALL

All Parts of State Represented

Twenty-two club leaders from all parts of Delaware attended the all day conference held at Wolf Hall last Saturday, and participated in the round table discussions. The occasion was a Club Leaders' Conference, planned by the extension department of Delaware College.

In the forenoon Prof. H. B. Hendrick of Washington discussed "The Ear Marks of Club Work," and gave the following as essential requirements: (1) A local club organization, (2) A definite program for every meeting, (3) An annual exhibit of club products, (4) A judging team, (5) A demonstration team, (6) A final report and story on how the project was conducted, (7) An achievement program.

Prof. Hendrick demonstrated the process of preserving eggs in Water-glass, as a typical demonstration for a regular poultry club meeting. Agnes P. Medill, Assistant State Club Leader, lead a round table discussion on Some Permanent Results of the Liberty Food Clubs in Delaware.

In the afternoon, Dean H. Hayward of Delaware College spoke on the Importance of Boys' and Girls' Extension Work, and emphasized the great responsibility of leaders in carrying out Junior Extension Work. Miss Grace Goodpasture of Washington, discussed Social and Economic Aspects of Club Work. Theodore T. Martin, State Club Leader, discussed Club Work in Relation to the County Farm Bureau to the end that the local communities may determine what home projects shall be taken up, and so that local leadership can be secured before club work is attempted.

It was stated that there are now 315 members in the Liberty Food Clubs, and over 500 members in Garden, Poultry, Corn, Pig, Canning and Calf Clubs. Two State Leaders from Delaware College, two County Leaders, four Assistant County Leaders, and about twenty Local Volunteer Leaders manage these clubs in Delaware.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY GREAT SUCCESS

One Hundred Forty Dollars Realized

The play, "Everyouth," presented by pupils of the High School last Friday evening, under the direction of Miss Ethel Bruebaker, was a splendid success. One hundred forty dollars was realized for the benefit of the Athletic Association. Congratulations are due the director and every member of the cast, on the splendid production.

The characters played their parts with an ease and finish that made it hard to believe for many this was a first appearance. The play itself, a fantasy, representing the struggle between the good and evil in Everyouth's life, proved exceedingly popular. Scene one presents Everyouth, a clerk in Somebody's office, who arrives at the office five minutes late to find Work and Happiness, the stenographer, there before him. Pleasure, a friend to Everyouth, and Reason, a still better friend appear. Care enters, also, but is driven away by Work.

When Everyouth and Work disagree, Happiness is compelled to depart. Pleasure returns with his wiles to draw Everyouth away from Work. In Scene two, one month has elapsed. A new stenographer, Temptation, and her two attendants, Conceit and Vanity, have replaced Happiness in Somebody's office; a combination not agreeable to Work. Truth, a very frank fellow, enters to say aloud what some folks are afraid to intimate. Work leaves to keep an engagement with Happiness; and Everyouth, spurning Reason, allows himself to be drawn away by Temptation.

In Scene three, several months later, Care is now Everyouth's constant companion. But a new girl, Love, has replaced the three former office assistants. Care points out that by dipping into Somebody's gold, Everyouth can rid himself of Care forever. Temptation and her companions return to add their wiles and to try their powers against the warnings of Trouble, of Truth, and of Reason, whose authority are supplemented by the weight of Work, Happiness, and Love.

Art Collection at Women's College

On Friday evening the students of the Women's College had repetition of the treat enjoyed last year, when Signor Fattorusso of the firm of Brogi and Company in Florence, spent the evening in exhibiting his beautiful photographs. The Hilarium had a dozen tables scattered about the room, on each of which were port-folios of the wonderful reproductions of the art treasures of the Italian galleries. The College had many guests to enjoy the evening with them.

Scotch Women Make American Flag

The women of a small village in Scotland who sat up all night to make a flag for the American soldiers lost on the Tuscania will not soon be forgotten.

Mrs. W. H. Walt, director of publicity for the Daughters of the American Revolution, in recounting the story, said: "After the sinking of the Tuscania, a woman in the little Scotch coast town where the bodies were washed ashore found a tiny American flag on one of the boys. She and the other women of the village determined that the American should be wrapped in their own flag for burial, and they sat up all night making the flag, copying the small one the woman had found."

"At their annual convention the Daughters passed a resolution extending thanks to the women of that Scotch village and sending them an American flag to commemorate their loving act in thus honoring the American dead."

State Board Meeting at Stanton

Arthur R. Spaid, as secretary of the State Board of Education, has announced a meeting of the State Board at Stanton Hall, on Monday, May 13th, at 8 p. m., to hear reasons for or against the alteration of the school districts named below under the provisions of the act of the General Assembly, entitled "An Act to Amend Chapter 71 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Delaware relative to the alteration of the boundaries of school districts by union or otherwise and making certain provisions concerning school districts so altered," approved March 12, 1915.

All residents and property owners in said districts are invited to attend the meeting and to express their opinions concerning such alteration.

The school districts referred to are No. 35, Forest Oak; No. 36, White Clay; No. 38, Stanton; No. 42, Ogletown; No. 95, Sunnyside.

American Women—Awake!

The casualty lists are coming in—long, long lists of our own men wounded, yet very few of the local Red Cross workshops where surgical dressing are being made for our army, have enough workers to use the equipment to greatest advantage. There are hundreds of women who do work regularly, devotedly. There are thousands more, who as yet cannot spare time from dressmakers, bridge and the matinee.

One group of women suggested that they would work in the morning, if the tables could be cleared from bridge in the afternoon. Cannot our women realize that we are at war and that half-hearted effort will never win the war? We must work, give, pray to our uttermost.

Let every woman be a whole-hearted member of a "Win the War" club; no dues, but duties; responsible to her own conscience; ten hours a week (at least) for war work. Then our workshops will run to full capacity—and only then will we be doing what we can.

Six Syllables But Only A Tank

A dispatch headed Paris, May 5, says: The war correspondent at the front for the Temps writes: "Some one asked me recently what the Germans called their 'tanks.' I was compelled to confess ignorance. A document found since, however, shows that the German for tank is 'Sturmpanzerkraftwagen.'"

Miss Winslow will give a stereopticon lecture next Monday evening on the Sistine Chapel, showing the work of Raphael and Michaelangelo. The hour is changed to eight o'clock.

KENNARD & CO.
Wash Skirts
As usual we are showing a most comprehensive line of new models in Wash Skirts. Strongly featured are Belgian linens, gabardine, pique and a wonderful line of white cotton novelties. Prices range from $3.50 to $8.50 with every in-between price.

Top Coats
From the current news in the papers there is an indication of wool shortage for the coming fall and winter. In our coat buying this spring we made some preparations for this situation. We would advise a selection from the many models shown so as to secure quality and all wool.
